

DESPINA TZANAKAKI (B.Sc., M.Med.Sci.)
Senior Clinical Embryologist
Director of IVF/Andrology Lab and Cryopreservation Bank
Quality System Manager
IVF Unit
2nd Department of Obstetrics & Gynaecology
Medical School
National and Kapodistrian University of Athens
Aretaieion Hospital

Despina Tzanakaki studied Biology at the University of Patras, Greece and specialized in clinical embryology at the University of Nottingham, UK, obtaining the M.Med.Sci. in Assisted Reproduction Technology.

She has been working as a Clinical Embryologist since 2001, and now she is the Lab Manager of the IVF Unit and Cryopreservation Bank, in the 2nd Department of Obstetrics & Gynecology, at the National and Kapodistrian University of Athens, based in Aretaieion Hospital, as well as the Quality System Manager.

She is a member of ESHRE and ALPHA Scientists in Reproductive Medicine, while she continuously attends conferences and seminars in the field of Assisted Reproduction, as well as participating in many publications in peer-reviewed journals. She is also instructor in several Master Degree Programs and she trains graduates of biomedical sciences in various techniques of the andrology and embryology laboratory.

Moreover, she played a pivotal role in the design, renovation and reopening of the Assisted Reproduction Unit at Aretaieio Hospital, which led to the Certification of the Department according to EN 15224 and its formal licensing by the Greek Authorities in 2020.